

By: John Burger

<http://www.ncregister.com/blog/a-new-cardinal-for-egypt/>

In addition, the United States Commission on International Religious Freedom, in its 2010 Annual Report, found that “serious problems of discrimination, intolerance and other human rights violations against members of minorities...remain widespread in Egypt. The commission reported a “significant upsurge in violence targeting Coptic Orthodox Christians.”